Scripture —

Acts 8: 4-8 ( NIV)

<sup>4</sup>Those who had been scattered preached the word wherever they went. <sup>5</sup>Philip went down to a city in Samaria and proclaimed the Messiah there. <sup>6</sup>When the crowds heard Philip and saw the signs he performed, they all paid close attention to what he said. <sup>7</sup>For with shrieks, impure spirits came out of many, and many who were paralyzed or lame were healed. <sup>8</sup>So there was great joy in that city.

In honor of President's Day, January 17th. Here are some of our President's favorite Hymns...

George Washington: "How Happy is He Born and Taught"

Our first president loved music, even though he could not play any instruments. George and Martha Washington did love hymns and would sing hymns to their children every night before bed. He was also one of the first two Americans to buy an American made piano. Washington's favorite hymn, "How Happy is He Born and Taught," is based on Psalm 67.

Thomas Jefferson: "Hark, The Glad Sound the Savior Comes"

President Jefferson was one of our most musical presidents and was a very skilled violin player. His wife was also a talented musician. Jefferson was a Baptist and attended a church near Charlottesville, VA. He went to college at William & Mary and there he played violin duets with his friend, Patrick Henry. Jefferson's favorite hymn, "Hark, The Glad Sound the Savior Comes," was written in 1735 by Philip Doddridge.

John Quincy Adams: "Send Forth, O God Thy Light and Truth"

President Adams was the only president that actually wrote hymns. He wrote a total of 5 hymns in his lifetime. He was also the only president who served 17 years as a representative after he ceased being president. John Quincy Adams wrote his favorite hymn, "Send Forth, O God Thy Light and Truth," and based it off of Psalm 43.

Abraham Lincoln: "How Tedious and Tasteless the Hours"

President Lincoln's mother taught him many hymns growing up before she passed away when he was 9 years old. He loved listening to hymns and singing, but the only time he sang a solo was for his older sister's wedding. Lincoln was the only president to have a singing chaplain. His favorite hymn, written by John Newton, was "How Tedious and Tasteless the Hours."

Rutherford B. Hayes: "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me"

President Hayes and his wife Lucy were abolitionists. They were also prohibitionists and banned all alcohol from the White House. After leaving the White House, Hayes devoted himself to many humanitarian issues including educational issues and prison reform. His favorite hymn was "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me."
